Skateboarders in Columbia, SC need an updated map of local skate spots to avoid wasting time searching for viable locations.

Core Problem:
Skateboarders in Columbia, South Carolina lack access to a reliable, centralized directory of local skate spots, resulting in significant time wasted searching for viable locations.

Specific Context:
- Knowledge of skateable spots is fragmented across personal networks and social media
- New skateboarders and visitors struggle to find locations without local connections
- Existing spots change due to construction, security enforcement, and urban development
- No systematic way to share discoveries or warn about problematic locations

Impact:
- Reduced skateboarding participation and community growth
- Inefficient use of practice time and urban infrastructure
- Safety concerns from skating in untested or problematic locations
- Limited ability to plan sessions or meet other skateboarders

Scope:
This problem can be addressed through a web-based solution that organizes and displays skate spot information specific to Columbia.
